New Sustainability Programs in Guatemala

In December, at our 3rd Annual Operators' Conference in Guatemala, we introduced two new programs aimed in large part at guaranteeing the sustainability and effectiveness of the LWWM systems in Guatemala to produce clean water.

The first program is a formal operator certification program through training and testing. It will further the skills and knowledge of the system operators and certify that skill and knowledge.

The second program is the introduction of state-approved water quality testing at each LWWM site in Guatemala. This will be done twice a year by an independent laboratory.

Both of these new programs have been developed through the hard work of our staff in Guatemala and with the expertise of LWWM supporters, Gloria Blanco and Pete Emerson.

Fulfilling our mission: two stories

Our mission is to empower local ministry partners to bring physical, social and spiritual transformation to poor communities by providing sustainable, safe water solutions. We continue to seek God's direction in carrying out this mission which He has given to us. Let us share two examples of how God has given us opportunities to fulfill our mission:

First, this March, we will be returning to Panajachel, to the second LWWM system (2008) in order to re-install the system there in a more suitable room. With all of our systems we have sought to continue the relationship and find ways to support the local partners and to ensure that clean water is being produced. The re-installation team will include several of the original team members from 2008. What an amazing testimony to God's faithfulness!

Second, last fall, our chief technician responded to request by a church in Guazacapan, Guatemala to assist with their system which LWWM did not install. The system was in desperate need of an overhaul and Josue's reputation as a brother in Christ and as a skilled technician led this church to seek his help. He re-installed the whole system practically and we have offered an annual maintenance agreement to this system to receive further support. God has blessed LWWM with expanding partners in Guatemala. See before and after photo.

Trips to Cuba and Guatemala in the coming weeks

In the coming weeks we will have two different teams going to two different countries to install clean water systems. Children like these are waiting for clean water and fun hands-on hygiene education!

In collaboration with Gateway Church in Visalia and our partners in Santiago de Cuba, we will be sending a team to rural El Cristo, Cuba at the end of January. The team will install a water system at a sister congregation of the Iglesia De Dios in Santiago de Cuba (where we installed a system in 2015). Special thanks to Pastor Daniel of the Santiago church and to Bud Case, whose parents founded that church as missionaries, for their coordination of this special installation. The team leaves on Thursday!

A week after the return of our Cuba team, we will send Mark and Jim (also on the Cuba team) with another team to Guatemala to install a system at a public agricultural vocational high school in Sololá. This will be our first installation around Lake Atitlan in years.

How you can support Living Water World Missions

Pray for our board of directors and our staff as they seek to discern and to carry out God's will for this ministry. Pray also for the safety and health of our staff and their families in Guatemala.

Pray for the installation teams and site partners to experience the saving power of Jesus Christ through the installation of clean water systems.

Consider working through your church or service organization to sponsor all or part of a water system, send team members to Guatemala on an installation, or host a fundraiser for LWWM.

Make a donation, one-time or recurring, by mail or through PayPal. More details on our website.

Join an installation team to Guatemala in 2017. We have many trips that are still open, including April, May, and June! No experience needed.
